ROUNDUP IN RHODESIA IS CONTINUING

By LYNN HEINZERLING
SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—A steady stream of native politicians was rushed into confinement behind barbed wire today as the British rulers of Southern Rhodesia pushed a roundup of African nationalist leaders.

Despite the proclamation of a state of emergency in Southern Rhodesia and the banning of the African National party, both that territory and neighboring Nyasaland and Northern Rhodesia were reported quiet.

The detention camp hurriedly set up at Bulawayo, 230 miles southwest of Salisbury, was rapidly filling. The government pressed a hunt for other leaders of Rhodesia's leading African nationalist organization, blamed for riots last week in Nyasaland.

Pamphlets in local dialects were being distributed, telling Africans the meaning of the state of emergency.

At the big Kariba hydroelectric project, where 6,000 African workers went on strike for higher pay Wednesday, 4,500 were reported back at work. The company raised the pay.

Reports that African nationalists continued to control some outlying airstrips in Nyasaland brought a request for a group of paratroop veterans to recapture the strips. The Africans had blocked the strips.

The previous disturbances and the threat of more trouble brought a 12-fold increase in riot insurance on homes in Nyasaland.

In Salisbury, life went on much as usual. No troops were seen in the streets—and not even many policemen.

But some Africans warned that the arrests of between 250 and 500 African National party leaders in Southern Rhodesia were bound to have a bad effect on the two million blacks in this territory dominated by 176,000 whites.

One of those seized was Daniel Mazimabuto, a coproducer of the film "African Drum Rolls" which drew its usual packed audience here Thursday night. He is directed (Turn to Page Fourteen)

Campanella Says He's Heartsick Over Son's Plight

NEW YORK (AP)—Crippled Roy Campanella, who says he is heartsick over his 15-year-old son's juvenile delinquency, has decided nevertheless to keep his promise and go to Vero Beach, Fla., to work as a special coach with the Los Angeles Dodgers baseball team.

The Negro ex-star catcher, confined to a wheelchair by injuries suffered in an auto accident more than a year ago, said Thursday he has abandoned plans to take his family with him.

Campanella will coach young pitchers.

After the arrest of his son David last Tuesday, Campanella had said he did not know if he would go to Vero Beach.

His wife, Ruth, said he is still deeply upset over David's conviction Tuesday on a juvenile delinquency charge for street fighting and his arrest the next day as an alleged drugstore burglar. Because the boy is under 16, that charge also is only juvenile delinquency. A court hearing has been set for March 11. The boy is free in $3,500 bail.

Eleven Members of Family Lose Home in Island Fire

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (AP)—A search for new living quarters for the 11 members of the Genna family today became a community-wide project.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Genna and their nine children lost all their belongings and their Plum Island home in a fire Thursday.

The Newburyport News, service organizations and individuals pitched in to help find the Gennas new living quarters within a week.

What appliances do not come with the new home will be acquired for the Gennas by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Ladies of Christopher will supply linen and kitchen utensils.

The Kiwanis Club contributed $225 to buy clothing.

Rotary Club members said they would seek a suitable home.

The Salvation Army said it would serve as a receiving depot.

William L. Plante Jr., editor of the Newburyport News, who spurred the drive, said "the family should be in pretty good shape within a week."

Genna, 35, and slightly over five feet tall, is widely known throughout Plum Island and Newburyport as a hard-working salesman. He has sold vacuum cleaners and worked as a salesman for a bakery and an appliance store.

Governor Joins Bipartisan Effort To Speed Up Federal Flood Control Construction

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top Army engineer has told a meeting of Pennsylvania's Congressional delegation an extra five million dollars could be put to good use on flood control projects in the state.

Gov. David L. Lawrence met with 21 members of the House and with Senators Joseph S. Clark (D) and Hugh Scott (R) Thursday in a bipartisan effort to speed up federal flood control projects in the Commonwealth.

Lawrence said that in his opinion the administration has not asked for enough money to keep Pennsylvania projects moving as fast as they could during the year starting July 1.

Brig. Gen. J. L. Person, assistant chief of engineering for civil works in the Army Engineers, declared he was not specifically requesting added funds for Commonwealth projects.

But, he said, the Army could put extra funds to good use.

Person said the engineers also could use two million dollars for work on the proposed 113 million dollar dam at Kinzua, Pa., if they were permitted to continue work there.

The project has been delayed pending settlement of court action by the Seneca Indians to halt construction of the dam. It would flood a portion of their reservation in western New York state. The Senecas have until April 23 to file an injunction with the U.S. Supreme Court.

Rep. Leon H. Gavin (R-Pa.) suggested that the delegation work toward an appropriation of 5 to 10 million dollars for the Kinzua project, and also called for congressional action to rescind the order holding up work on the dam.

Police on Hand For Funeral of Jersey Gangster

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Police ringed the funeral parlor Thursday night to hold back the curious as family and friends paid last respects to Abner Longie Zwillman, 54, the man called king of the New Jersey underworld.

Zwillman's years of crime violence and a belated quest for respectability came to an end Thursday. He hanged himself in his mansion in suburban West Orange.

The life of this "son of immigrant parents" came a full cycle. His body was brought to a funeral parlor only a few doors from the tenement where Zwillman spent his boyhood.

There, at 13, Zwillman was forced to provide for his Russian-born mother and her four children after his father died.

It was there, in the dog-eat-dog world of the 3rd Ward, that Zwillman was first given the chance to make a few dollars by running whisky during prohibition.

The few dollars then became millions.

Couple Who Denied Baby Medical Care Arrested

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—A man and his wife, who said their religion prevented them from taking their sick infant daughter to a doctor, face up to 10 years for manslaughter.

Bible-quoting Olen O. Craig, 35, claimed he was doing the Lord's will in not letting modern medicine step in to try to save 5-month-old Elaine. The child died Nov. 25 of pneumonia.

Craig and his wife, Lillian, were convicted Thursday by a jury which deliberated 40 minutes. They were released in $1,000 bond until sentence is handed down.

Craig, a building contractor, was acquitted of a manslaughter charge one year ago in the death of another child, Raymond, 8. The court then held there was reasonable doubt Craig knew the boy had pneumonia.

The Craigs belong to the Church of God sect here.

Dems Making Choice For Convention City

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic National Committee gathered today to make a final choice for the party's 1960 national convention city.

Los Angeles, recommended by a site committee, was favored to win over 11th hour challenges from Philadelphia and Chicago.

Six cities were in the original competition. On Jan. 18, an eight-member committee headed by Camille F. Gravel Jr. of Louisiana agreed on Los Angeles, whose bid included $350,000 cash plus use of a new 17,000-seat sports arena.

Bow and Arrow Help Restore Telephones

TOWNSEND, Mont. (AP)—Telephone service was restored across the Missouri River today—by bow and arrow.

A light plane, flying along the river, snapped the Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Co. rural line. The plane apparently was not damaged.

Repairman Ken O'Dell, using a 50-pound bow and an arrow tied to a nylon fishing line, spanned the river with one shot. It is 300 feet wide at that point. Heavy twine was tied to the line and pulled across. Then a hemp rope, and finally the heavy wire.

OBSERVERS WRITE OFF MAC'S TRIP

By DENNIS NEEDLE
LONDON (AP)—British newspapers on both sides of the political fence united today in blaming Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev because prime Minister Harold Macmillan had obtained no concessions from the Soviet in his Moscow visit.

Even newspapers of the Labor opposition conceded Macmillan had done his best.

Macmillan himself had promised only to return with information. He had warned he was going on a reconnaissance mission, "to try to break the ice and get some feeling of the general situation."

British spokesmen in Moscow admitted Thursday, after their chief flew to Kiev for the sight-seeing portion of his trip, that the "feeling" Macmillan got was that both the Soviets and the West so far were standing firm on the related issues of divided Germany and West Berlin.

Britons generally had hoped for more. As a result, Macmillan's trip was widely termed a failure.

The papers agreed that Khrushchev's speech Tuesday, pouring cold water on the Western proposals for a foreign ministers' conference on Germany, had wrecked the British-Soviet meeting.

"It was Khrushchev's rough, rude speech—breaking confidences, abusing all and sundry, and belying the fair words spoken (Turn to Page Fourteen)

Neb. Legislature Decides Dispute In Favor of Dem.

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—The unicameral Nebraska Legislature today formally abandoned the contest over the Nebraska governorship.

It took less than two minutes to write a conclusion to the historic challenge by which Republicans hoped to unseat Gov. Ralph G. Brooks, Nebraska's first Democratic governor in 18 years.

Official election results gave Brooks a 1,640 vote margin over incumbent Republican Gov. Victor Anderson. The contest was brought by Joseph S. Wishart, Lincoln Republican.

Gov. Dwight Burney read to the Legislature today a telegram from Wishart asking that the recount be dropped. State Sen. A. Fenske moved that the contest be dismissed and the recount discontinued. The motion was approved.

The recount had given Brooks an additional 30 votes up to the time it was ended, making his lead over Anderson 1,670 votes.

Two Boys Have Close Call on Seaside Cliff

DALY CITY, Calif. (AP)—Two boys who wanted to "look at the ocean" were rescued Thursday after being trapped 17 hours halfway down a 400-foot seaside cliff.

A Coast Guard cutter, a helicopter, bloodhounds and more than 100 firemen, police and volunteers joined in an all-night search for George (Bobby) Smith Jr., 6, and Gary Smith, 4, who are not related.

"We was just going to go down and go across the street to look at the ocean and then we couldn't get back up," Bobby told his rescuers. The Pacific Ocean cliff is a few blocks from their homes in this San Francisco suburb.

Movie Premier Being Staged at Altoona

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)—This mountain community of 75,000 will look a little like Hollywood tonight.

At least that is the hope of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer publicity men who dreamed up the idea of staging world premieres in small communities, instead of large cities.

All the trappings and whoopla—a parade, klieg lights and film stars—will be on display when MGM's newest movie, "The First Man into Space," gets its first public showing.

Extra Penny Cigarette Tax Proposed for Korean Bonus

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence said today he will ask the Legislature to enact an extra penny-a-pack tax on cigarettes to pay some 120 million dollars in a state bonus to Korean War veterans.

Lawrence said in a statement that his office has prepared a bill for introduction in the House next week calling for an increase from five to six cents in the tax on a pack of cigarettes.

"The Military Affairs Department is ready to go into action," Lawrence said in promising that the first bonus payments would begin within six months after the passage of the administration bill.

The bill follows the recommendations made by the governor's bipartisan Tax Study Committee as a method repaying the money for the bonus payments to estimated 330,000 Pennsylvania veterans of the Korean War.

The bonus payment was approved at a referendum in November of 1957. The current Legislature must authorize a tax to finance the payment and enact laws to set up the payment machinery (Turn to Page Fourteen)

Stassen Invited To Run for Mayor Of Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The city's top Republican leaders today asked Harold E. Stassen to be the party candidate for mayor this year. Stassen promised an answer next Wednesday.

The former assistant to President Eisenhower said he would run if the leaders could prove there was support for him from the rank and file, women and independent Republicans.

Stassen sought the GOP nomination for governor of Pennsylvania last year and generally ran well except in Philadelphia where ward leaders backed Arthur T. McGonigle, the winner.

Since that campaign, Stassen has returned to his law practice. He was formerly governor of Minnesota and later an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

He became president of the University of Pennsylvania in 1948, leaving that post to become an assistant to President Eisenhower in 1953.

Officials Report Jupiter Missile Flight a Success

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An Army Jupiter missile, with a range of 1,500 miles, hurtled aloft today on the start of a full-range test of the workhorse vehicle. The Army said the flight across the Atlantic was successful.

The 60-foot missile shot skyward at 12:49 a.m. after waiting out a 6½ hour downpour. It was the 14th launching of the Jupiter, a key rocket in the upcoming Army moon probe and two other major U.S. space ventures. The latest Jupiter carried nothing alive, military sources said.

A ship was stationed in the down-range impact area to record data on re-entry of the missile's three sections—nose cone, instrument compartment, and booster.

Jupiter does triple duty as a war missile, moon rocket and a likely test vehicle for Project Mercury, the man-in-space program.

The fiery takeoff was a preview of the Pioneer moon launching which is expected this weekend.

It will be a second attempt to fire a 13-pound gold-plated satellite past the moon and into orbit around the sun. The Soviets said they achieved this with a larger satellite early in January.

Fire Hazards in Colleges Next To Be Investigated

HARRISBURG (AP)—A statewide campaign to eliminate fire hazards in educational institutions will shift to Pennsylvania's colleges this summer, officials of the Labor and Industry Department said today.

"Right now checking these potential dangers in grade and high schools has top priority but after that we will take a look at the colleges," Secretary William L. Batt Jr. told The Associated Press.

The department started a crash campaign against school fire traps after a recent Chicago fire took stars—the lives of some 90 pupils and teachers. The agency is acting under provisions of the state's Fire and Panic Law.

SOVIET TRAWLER BOARDED BY U.S. NAVY TEAM IN INCIDENT ON HIGH SEAS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department awaited word from the Navy today before communicating with Moscow on the boarding and high seas search of a Soviet trawler by a U. S. Navy team.

In a surprise action, U. S. sailors briefly boarded the trawler in fishing waters off Newfoundland Thursday.

They reported nothing to indicate the Russians had anything to do intentionally with recent breaks in transatlantic cables. What might have happened by accident was an open question.

A spokesman said the State Department would communicate with the Soviet Union through diplomatic channels as soon as a full report is received.

After searching the trawler, the Navy team reported: "No indications of intentions other than fishing."

The quick negative report, issued by the Navy here a few hours after the boarding was announced, lessened the potential impact of the incident on already touchy U.S.-Soviet relations.

There was no immediate indication how Moscow might react. Nations jealous of their sovereignty often resent the boarding of their ships by men of another nation.

The Soviet vessel is the trawler Novorossiysk, with a crew of 54 men and women. The Navy reported the captain was friendly and cooperative.

The United States acted under an international agreement which the Defense Department said "authorizes investigations by naval ships of official documents of other ships suspected of damaging and interfering with cables under the high seas." Both the United States and the U.S.S.R. are signers of the agreement.

Five transatlantic cables have been damaged since last Saturday in the area off Newfoundland. Fishing vessels of many nations (Turn to Page Fourteen)

Urges Caution In Talks Over Berlin Crisis

By ERNEST B. VACCARO.
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) underlined the potential gravity of the Berlin crisis today by pleading for less talk on Capitol Hill while President Eisenhower weighs "the hour-to-hour developments."

Dirksen, the Senate's Republican leader and chief administration spokesman, cautioned in an interview against headline-making speeches or any hasty action that might affect critical negotiations.

Renewed tension over the Berlin situation exploded in the Senate Thursday with Democratic demands for a stepped-up defense program and for alerting the people to any eventuality—including the possibility of a shooting war. Adding to the apprehension were the uncompromising tone of recent speeches by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and the apparent lack of any favorable results in Khrushchev's Moscow talks this week with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. The talks ended Thursday with British reports that neither side was giving an inch.

A further possible strain on U.S.-Soviet relations developed Thursday when a U.S. Navy boarding party made a personal check of a Soviet trawler about (Turn to Page Fourteen)

Pressman Strike Halts Papers in Columbus, O.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A pressmen's strike has halted publication of this city's three daily newspapers with a total daily circulation of 347,000.

The strike by Columbus Web Pressmen's Union, Local No. 15 forced the morning Ohio State Journal and then the evening Columbus Dispatch and Columbus Citizen to suspend publication.

The strike started Thursday night when pressmen, failing to come to terms with the publishers on a new contract, threw up picket lines outside the Dispatch-Journal building and the Citizen building.

John Winnestaffer, president of the pressmen's group, said he saw no hope for an immediate strike settlement. He said the stumbling block was the issue of premium pay for Saturday night work.

Meadville Fire Loss Estimated at $400,000

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Damage estimates have been fixed at $400,000 in a fire which gutted a furniture storage warehouse in Meadville.

Fire Chief Fred Carman of Meadville and Charles B. Peterman, manager of the S. C. Betts Storage & Carting Co., jointly issued the estimate Thursday.

Firemen of eight companies fought the fire nearly 13 hours after it broke out late Wednesday night in the four-story Betts warehouse.

John Winnestaffer, president of the pressmen's group, said he saw no hope for an immediate strike settlement. He said the stumbling block was the issue of premium pay for Saturday night work.

Boarding Party Captain Is Naval Man of Long Standing

PAWCATUCK, Conn. (AP)—Lt. Cmdr. Ernest J. Korte, 42, captain of the Navy destroyer which put a boarding party on a Soviet trawler off Newfoundland, has been a Navy man for a quarter of a century.

He entered the submarine service 25 years ago and switched to destroyers in 1957.

He was made a lieutenant in World War II and saw action in the Pacific as an executive officer on a submarine. For a while he commanded the submarine Kingfish, stationed at Providence, R.I.

He became captain of the destroyer Hale last May. Before that he was executive officer of the Hyman.

Korte attended George Washington University after World War II and around 1950 was a student at the General Line School for officers at Newport.

He, his wife, and their two children, Ernest Jr., 15, and Gary, 9, have lived in Pawcatuck about seven years. His wife is the former Helen Louise Fish of Pawcatuck.

Korte was born in Freeport, Minn. His parents were of German descent and operated a large farm. His mother, Mrs. Rose Korte, lives in Melrose, Minn., where young Korte grew up.

Fighting on the card are Joe Campagna and Carl Henninger. Tom Gerarde is expected to box but Elbaum hasn't released definite word. Democrats Name Full Slate of Co. Candidates

Pre-primary activity in the ranks of the Warren County Democratic Committee began to stir last evening when the regular monthly meeting was held in the large courtroom.

With County Democratic chairman Frank Fago presiding, committeemen and women reviewed the list of local and county offices to be filled this year, and as previously announced, started the task of seeking suitable candidates for the May 19 primary election. The party plans to fill the slate and offer full opposition to Republican aspirants.

County Commissioner Lewis Crippen will seek re-election to the post and William Martin of the Russell area also plans to make formal announcement as a candidate for county commissioner, according to a statement made by Chairman Fago this morning. Mark Summerson indicated that he might aspire to the county commissioner job and seek the Democratic nomination in May.

Other definite commitments forthcoming were John Salamon, 4 North street for County Treasurer; John Imperial, 12 Frank street, for Sheriff; Jim Summerton, Titoute for Auditor; Thomas H. Conway, 513 Fourth avenue for Jury Commissioner.

Other possible democratic candidates are still being contacted and it is anticipated that additional announcements may be forthcoming within the next week. Final day for filing petitions is March 16.

Kiwanians Plan Night of Harmony For Youngsville

YOUNGVILLE — At the Tuesday evening dinner-meeting of Kiwanis Club, held in the Methodist church parlors and attended by 37 members and three guests, Chairman E. Leo Johnson urged that all "get out and sell tickets" for the annual Night of Harmony. Program numbers have been selected and the affair should prove another wonderful success.

Group singing for the meeting was led by Wyllys Johnson; the invocation and benediction were given by the Rev. J. Norman Holder. George Walter reported on the inter-church gathering at Lakewood last Monday, five local members making the trip and enjoying the talk by a student from Australia. Efforts are being made to have him come to Youngsville at a later date. Members were pleased to greet President Laverne Hull, attending his first meeting since his illness.

Richard Hess, supervisor of special education for Warren county schools, was introduced by H. J. Sherwood and spoke on "The Child, Our Greatest Asset".

He remarked "children are an asset or liability, depending on how the people of the community treat them. The handicapped child may be aided or harmed by people's attitude. Environmental experiences play a large part in the mental, growth of a child and parents should make their house a home. Many parents fail to devote enough time to their children".

To illustrate his statements, Mr. Hess recited several case histories, and concluded by saying "children are a mass of energy just waiting to be led to a useful life".

United Announces
Retirements of
Two Employees

The retirement of two more employees under its Retirement and Pension Plan has been announced by United Refining Company. The two, Carl E. Spies, of 126 Frank Street, and L. E. Seavy, of 203 Jackson Street, North Warren, have a combined total of 52 years of continuous service with the company. Mr. Spies' employment dates to 1923.

Mr. Seavy, employed by Emblem Oil Company and known to his many friends in Warren and throughout the company's marketing area, as "Doc," was employed as a field auditor in 1943 and continued in that position to the time of his retirement. His duties included assisting Keystone gasoline dealers throughout northwestern Pennsylvania and western New York with their bookkeeping procedures and records as well as regular auditing responsibilities. An avid bowler, Doc is currently carrying a 165 average in local competition.

Originally employed in the United Filter House, Mr. Spies was promoted to the position of Stillman after two years and continued in that capacity until very recently. His retirement will not completely remove the Spies name from United's payroll, as his son, Jim, has been employed in the company's accounting and traffic departments since 1953, thirty years after his father started working for United.

With the addition of these two men, there are now 56 persons receiving pension benefits under United Refining Company's retirement plan.

South has a perfectly normal opening no-trump and almost any two players will land at three no-trump with the North-South hands.

The right way to get there is the simple way. North should raise directly to the no-trump game. He does have a good five-card diamond suit but there is no reason for him to bid it. Why fool around with an 11-trick contract when you have a hand that will do just as well at a nine-trick level?

The slam-bang player will make four no-trump quickly and easily. He will win East's ten of clubs with his queen and run off five diamond tricks, one spade, two hearts and two clubs for a total of ten.

In duplicate the expert will do the same except maybe he will work out some sort of end-play or pseudo-squeeze and make five-odd. In rubber bridge the expert will only make three-odd.

Here's how the expert will lose a trick. He will win the first club and play a diamond to the ace. Then the expert will lead a low diamond from dummy. He has seen such things as a 4-1 suit break and since four diamond tricks will give him his game he will use this safety play in order to ensure his contract.

What do you do?

A—Bid four no-trump. This must be Blackwood and if your partner shows as many as two aces you will bid six spades. There should be a good play for it because he has shown a maximum two no-trump and good spades. If he shows three aces you will still bid six spades only.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Boyle's Column

BY HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—"Nobody loves a fat man."

So says an American proverb. But Santa Claus still is mighty popular.

The truth is not that nobody loves a fat man. The truth is that most people secretly envy the fat man.

To most of the world the fat man is still the symbol of wealth, plenty and security. In this country he has become a symbol of nonconformity and independence—a man with the courage to be different.

As a doctor observed recently, the campaign against fat in America is assuming the proportions of "a national neurosis." Show me a man who jeers at an overweight person and I'll show you a man who is discontented because being thin hasn't made him rich, famous or happy.

It just goes to show that a man whose only ambition is to become thin as a rail is likely to end up wooden-headed, too.

There are certain advantages in this civilization in having a well-rounded stomach, known in some admiring circles as "a corporation."

First and foremost, girls in the office may laugh at your paunch, but—bless the little dears!—they do love to reach out and pat it.

Anything else you buy on the installment plan—a house, a car, a refrigerator—can be taken from you if you don't meet the payments regularly. But there is no mortgage on a big tummy. It is yours alone—all yours—to have and to hold. You can take it with you, even unto the grave.

Skinny men who nap in their office swivel chairs wake up weary from having their arms dangle down like an ape's. But the fat man finds his stomach is a comfortable arm rest.

A fat man can't be crowded. If somebody sits next to him in a bus seat, he merely takes a deep breath—and the other fellow falls off on the floor.

This world is full of people who stick their face into your face and try to peddle you something. The fat man is not at their mercy. He merely leans back, thrusts out his belly bumper—and pushes the fast talker out of hearing.

Bankers will lend more money on less collateral to a man with a tire around his waist. He looks like a bank vault to them—big and safe.

The fat man is more romantic—this may surprise the ladies!—and is the most attentive of lovers. As the old Scottish saying goes, "When the belly is full the mind is amongst the maids."

Religion in the News

A Protestant-Catholic togetherness movement, long antedating Pope John XXIII's call for an ecumenical council, observes its 20th birthday this year.

The movement, called Una Sancta, has been going on so quietly and informally that its participants probably are surprised to find that they have been getting together for two decades.

Una Sancta, meaning "One Holy," is confined almost exclusively to the German-speaking countries of Europe. Its participants are chiefly Roman Catholic and Lutheran clergymen and lay theologians.

Informal headquarters is the Benedictine Abbey in Niederaltaich, Germany. Its abbot, the Rt. Rev. Emmanuel Heufelder, says Una Sancta's goal "is not the conversion of the Protestant churches but a genuine meeting of Christians in order to find the will of God together in a new understanding."

"Both sides are learning to see the good in each other and to be neither anti-Catholic nor anti-Protestant. Differences will remain—not in a hostile manner—but as brothers looking to the same Christ."

Una Sancta was founded in 1939 by a Roman Catholic priest, the Rev. Max Metzger, who was martyred by the German Nazis a few years later for his cooperation with Protestants in opposing Hitler.

The movement received added impetus in World War II when Catholic and Protestant clergy and lay leaders were forced to cooperate—and learn to respect each other—in exile and in concentration camps.

Reminder for Clergymen on Social Security

"The Social Security Administration reminds clergymen that some of them will never be able to have their earnings from the ministry count toward old-age, survivors, or disability benefits if they fail to take certain steps by April 15, 1959," Howard H. Gift, district manager of the Jamestown social security office, declares.

Clergymen may have their earnings from the ministry counted toward old-age, survivors, and disability insurance protection if they formally indicate within a specified time their desire to have these earnings counted. When a clergyman comes under social security he reports his earnings as self-employment income even though these earnings may be salary paid to him by the congregation or religious order which he serves. He must pay the social security self-employment tax on his earnings. The church of religious order which he serves does not become involved in any way.

Any clergyman who has not yet elected to be covered under the social security law must file a waiver certificate with the District Director of Internal Revenue on or before the due date of his income tax return for his second taxable year after 1956. For many clergymen who file income tax returns on a calendar year basis, this deadline is April 15, 1959.

If a waiver certificate is not filed within the time limit specified in the law, it cannot be filed at all. In this case, the clergyman's earnings from the ministry can never be counted toward social security benefits.

For further information about their rights and obligations under the old-age, survivors, and disability insurance program, clergymen are urged to get in touch with their social security district office and ask for a copy of leaflet OASI-33h, "Social Security for Clergymen." For information about waiver certificates and social security taxes, they are directed to the District Director of Internal Revenue.

TODAY'S WOMEN

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

The only American clothes popular with the girls of Pakistan are blue jeans and bathing suits, says beautiful Sayeeda Kaiser, wife of the Pakistan consul general in New York.

For work, school or housework Pakistani women wear the sari, says Mrs. Kaiser, an effective model for the romantic Eastern dress.

At Pakistan House, the New York consulate, both she and glamorous Laique Khan, wife of the vice consul, wear beautifully draped saris of sheer flower-printed nylon.

"We are having a wonderful time shopping in New York," said Mrs. Kaiser in an interview. "Particularly we appreciate the nylon fabrics for saris, since they are so easy to launder."

In Pakistan, a new country born of an ancient civilization, women now are taking their places in business and the professions, as doctors, lawyers, government workers, secretaries and nurses. There are more and more women students in the universities, and the old customs of segregation of women are disappearing.

Khawja M. Kaiser, the consul general, dark, handsome and youthful-looking, explains: "The taboos are breaking down under the needs of a changing society."

Even after they are exposed to Western dress, most Pakistani girls prefer the graceful sari.

"For active sports we wear your American jeans," Mrs. Kaiser adds. "And of course you can't swim in a sari, so all of us have American bathing suits—they are in great demand all over Pakistan."

FRIGHTENING PICTURE

That old one about a picture being worth 10,000 words was never more powerfully driven home than in a recent news photograph taken at the Senate Rackets Committee's "juke box" hearings.

At the microphone was Ralph Kelly, Elgin, Ill., juke box operator who, according to other testimony before the committee, was forced under threat of drowning to yield half of his business to an ex-convict named Rocco Pranno, identified by the committee as lieutenant to the chief gunman of the Al Capone gang.

What gave the photograph its horrifying fascination was the fact that behind and to the right of Kelly, in the hearing room, sat this same Pranno. He had Kelly fixed with a steely glint which plainly bespoke menace. Chairman McClelland was convinced Kelly was terror-stricken.

Neither witness gave the committee one iota of information. Pranno exhibited nothing but defiance, arrogance and irritation.

This, mind you, at the highest levels of government in the halls of Congress. Or are they the highest? It's getting pretty late to decide who's running this country, our elected representatives or the Rocco Prannos and their masters in thugdom.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURE WEEK

Special attention is called to observance of National Weights and Measures Week, March 1 to 7, by Ralph Dyke, Bear Lake RD 1, who says it will mark the 160th anniversary of the enactment of the first weights and measures law by Congress in 1799.

Mr. Dykes says weights and measures is one of the most important activities of local government. The millions of commercial transactions by weights and measures in our county must be supervised for accuracy. The financial stakes involved are enormous. Every citizen has a direct financial stake—and so does every businessman—in seeing that all transactions are fair both to buyer and seller. Scales, like other pieces of machinery, can make mistakes when they're worn out—have been abused, or are used by unskilled persons, Mr. Dyke reminds.

FATHER-SON GET-TOGETHER

According to all reports a fun-packed evening is in store for Dads and Lads who attend the fourth annual February Father-son tureen supper to be held Saturday evening at the YMCA starting at six o'clock. There will be singing, games and contests with special movie "Kill the Umpire," a comedy favorite. Parents planning to attend are reminded that there will be a small "donation" to help cover expenses—they are also to bring a tureen, rolls and their own table service. Sounds like a big time for lads and dads!

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many a man has looked at the national debt — big as a mountain in dollar bills — and asked himself: "How can we cut it down to pebble size?"

The latest to look and be appalled is Rep. James C. Wright Jr., 36, a Texas Democrat. He has an idea which might take 100 years to work out. But he thinks it's better than just sitting and looking.

Although Wright stuck a needle in the national conscience, and one House member after another arose to applaud him, nothing is likely to come of the idea except that it may be enshrined in a place set aside for noble thoughts.

The national debt now is 285 billion dollars. This year the government will have to pay $5,000,000,000 in interest on it, without knocking off a dime on the principal.

Wright, like others, hates to think of that going on indefinitely. He told the House that with interest rates going up, the government soon will probably be paying $9,800,000,000 a year in interest, if we just assume the total debt remains unchanged and does not get even higher than it is now.

So Wright said: "This means that if things go along exactly as they have been going, without any more increases in the national debt and without still another jump in the interest rates in 20 years we shall have paid the total amount of the debt and still owe every penny of it."

Wright suggests Congress tell the Treasury Department to set aside each year one per cent of the present national debt of 285 billion — or $2,850,000,000 a year — to pay off the principal.

This, Wright figures, would be cutting down not only on the size

Here and There

In connection with the various celebrations marking the observance of the 227th anniversary of the birth of George Washington, we have received a copy of an article written in 1932 by Mrs. Alice Sill-Branch for the Daughters of American Colonists, which should be of interest to present-day citizens of the area who may not be familiar with all the facts about the origin of the park on the hillside north of the borough bearing the name of the nation's first president. As a nation-wide celebration of the bi-centennial of the birth of George Washington began to be planned sometime prior to 1932 it was natural that locally the first impetus of a proper celebration should originate in the minds of patriotic women, long associated together in the cause of patriotism. Through the generosity of ten public-spirited citizens of Warren, headed by Charles T. Conarro, a tract of 65 acres on the south side of Tanner Hill overlooking Warren, had been purchased and presented to the Borough. Patriotic women of this locality, under the guidance and inspiration of Mrs. S. E. Walker (wife of the founder of the Times Publishing Co.) conceived the idea of having planted on this tract 1,000 white pine and 1,000 Norway spruce, the forest to be dedicated in 1932 as the George Washington bi-centennial nucleus of the town forest it is expected will be developed on this fine tract of land acquired by the Borough through the public-spirited citizens mentioned above. The idea of tree-planting was conceived to be one of the most attractive ways of commemorating this notable anniversary locally. A tract of land bounded by Seventh Street, East Street and located on either side of Market Street had just been given to the town by Mrs. August C. Morck. Here, in May 1932, were planted 13 Washington elms for the thirteen original colonies. Each tree bears a bronze plate indicating the state it represents. A native boulder is placed marking the park, its donor, its purpose and use, and naming the societies responsible for its placement. On Tuesday, August 9, 1932, the unveiling and dedication of Morck Park took place with impressive ceremonies. Representatives of national renown from the following societies took part in the exercises: Magna Charta Dames, Mayflower Descendants, Women Descendants of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery, Daughters of the American Colonists, Daughters of the American Revolution and the United States Daughters of 1812. Following the exercises in Morck Park, a pilgrimage was made to the apex of the hill overlooking the George Washington Bi-centennial forest. Here patriotic women unveiled a second boulder placed on the very brink of the high eminence overlooking Warren and the hillside planted with the white pine and spruce trees. The slightly spot thereupon became known as George Washington Park and in the intervening years has become a mecca for many picnic parties. Concrete tables have been built, open fireplaces are available for those who would cook their meal in the open, a fine drilled well affords pure drinking water. Seats have been placed for the enjoyment of all who may come. A good road has been made leading into the level area of the park from the main highway which is the extension of Liberty Street, Warren. The facilities are free to all who may come to enjoy the beauties of nature—the cool shade of the grove of trees in the park, the view of the magnificent reforestation project undertaken through the vision and determination of a group of patriotic women, the wonderfully beautiful and scenic Allegheny as it winds its way in and out among our matchless hills. Truly, George Washington might feel honored today could he view the "monument" in nature's grandeur erected to his memory on the two hundredth anniversary of his birth.

Daily Lenten Meditations

From the Upper Room

Read John 16:5-12.
Because I live, ye shall live also. (John 14:19.)

In the Toronto Institute for the Blind an Eye Bank has been established. Many persons have bequeathed to the Eye bank the corneas from their eyes. When the donors die, the corneas will be available for transplanting to the eyes of sightless persons. Hundreds of persons still living who have signed such bequests are happy that after their decease some sightless person will see again.

Our Lord made a bequest to His followers before He went to the cross. He said, "Because I live, ye shall live also." He made possible not mere sight, wonderful blessing that it is, but life eternal.

As heirs, we are privileged to make claim to Christ's promise. God's love stands ever ready for the sightless of soul. Jesus' forgiving, healing, and transcendent power transforms that soul into a new creature—with eyes to see, ears to hear, and a will to do His bidding.

PRAYER

Heavenly Father, we have all sinned and come short of Thy glory, but because of Thy love, we come boldly to the throne of grace to claim our inheritance. Teach us to have faith and claim that which Thou art so eager for us to receive. In the name of Christ, who ever makes intercession for us. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

By being compassionate toward others, I will show my gratitude to God.—Ruby I. Kingswood (Ontario).

The Kane Republican has it figured that area on the hilltop thus far this season has had six feet of snow—just over the 72 inch mark—not counting the "fluff" that fell Monday night. Over a period of years, the average snowfall around Kane is about 106 inches. That is from the first snow until the last. Kane has had its share of "weather" since November.

NEW YORK (AP) — Business statisticians can tell you almost anything today. They know — or say they do — how many baths you take a week and how much soap you use.

They can say how much the average homemaker spends on keeping the house clean. They can give the cost of keeping a skyscraper's insides spot and span.

Statisticians may just be in love with figures. But businessmen want their reports for other reasons. They need to know the demand so they can plan production. They want the potential so they can lay out sales drives.

The comforting statistical news today is that Americans are getting cleaner every year.

Statisticians say that in 1956 Americans used 23 pounds of soap a year per capita, and now 29 pounds. From this the experts deduce that Americans take 26 billion baths a year, or some 500 million a week.

The nation's 30,000 tailor shops and cleaners now do a record 1 1/2 billion dollar a year business keeping clothes fresh. The total of dry cleaning bills goes up an average of 3 per cent a year.

This year Americans are expected to spend nearly 600 million dollars, or $12 a family, on household cleansers, a cleaners, polishes, deodorizers and disin-

PROTECT INFANTS FROM WHOOPING COUGH

Whooping cough during infancy is serious and occasionally proves fatal. This explains why immunization is recommended during the first few months of life. Booster shots are given thereafter to assure a safe passage through childhood.

The protective injections of varying degrees of immunity. In some instances the child is protected completely, whereas in others there is just enough immunity to modify the disease. Should whooping cough develop it may be so mild as to escape detection. This is fine for the victim but if a susceptible person is exposed to the youngster, he may come down with a full-blown case.

Coughing begins one or two weeks after exposure. It resembles that of an ordinary cold at first but progresses and the mucus thickens, requiring more effort to bring it up. The typical whoop arises later when the youngster takes a deep breath between paroxysms of hard coughing spells. When the child is not whooping he may appear weary but normal.

The nutritional aspect of this disease in a severe form is likely to be a problem. Eating stimulates the cough reflex and whooping usually is followed by vomiting. When this occurs it is advisable to feed smaller meals of bland, easily digested foods many times throughout the day.

Medicines that relax, such as the tranquilizers, often reduce nausea and vomiting. Cough remedies are powerless to control hacking. The inhalation of steam or the aerosol, Alevaire, helps liquefy the stringy, tenacious mucus.

The antibiotics are of questionable value unless started early. This is not always practical because the disease rarely is diagnosed in the early stages. Gamma globulin is helpful, especially as a preventive or modifier for infants and frail children who are exposed and likely to get the disease.

RUMBLE SEAT

J. H. Wright: I have a sedentary job where I sit for hours at a time. Could this cause excessive rumbling of the stomach? It is so loud people across the room can hear it.

REPLY
No. Some rumble louder than others, depending upon when and what they ate.

GOITER RECURRENCE

J. C. writes: Can goiter return? I had one taken out 18 years ago and now have another lump in my neck.

REPLY
Yes, provided some of the thyroid tissue was left in when the goiter was removed. However, there are other causes of neck lumps besides enlarged thyroid.

AGITATION DEFEATS SLEEP

R. T. writes: Do insane persons go without sleep for a long time?

REPLY
Some mental patients are so agitated they go for unbelievable periods without sleep.

BANANAS

M. E. D. writes: Are bananas constipating?

REPLY
No. This notion stems from the fact that certain types of diarrhea are treated by banana therapy. Fruits usually have a laxative action.

DROOLING BOY

Mrs. T. writes: I know it is natural for babies to drool but our 4 year old still does it. Is this serious?

REPLY
Perhaps not but the manifestation is worth investigating, especially if the tongue is large or dental difficulties exist.

CLEFT PALATE

E. R. writes: Are cleft palate operations in children usually successful?

REPLY
Yes, particularly when done at the proper age.

Discarded 'Brinkmanship' Now Bears Russian Accent

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—There's a subtle shift of emphasis away from the Dulles "brink of war" policy in the Eisenhower administration's approach to the new Berlin crisis.

This retreat is not the result of the secretary of state's illness. Dulles himself set this new policy before he was hospitalized for his hernia and cancer. He's still navigating the ship of state, even though it's from his cabin and not at the wheel.

There's no threat to use atomic bombs and take the country to the verge of war in order to preserve the peace in East Germany. That's what the policy was over the Korean crisis in 1953, Vietnam in 1954, Formosa in 1955.

On the contrary there's an invitation out to Russia now to hold a foreign minister's meeting and negotiate differences before the Berlin issue comes to a head May 27.

THAT'S THE DATE RUSSIA has announced that it will turn control of East Germany over to its Communist government.

This is considerably different from the policy attributed to Secretary Dulles in a Life magazine article three years ago. Then he was quoted as having said:

"You have to take chances for peace, just as you must take chances for war. Of course we were brought to the verge of war. The ability to get to the verge without getting into the war is an art. If you try to run away from it, if you are scared to go to the brink, you are lost."

This was not the policy pursued by the United States during the Suez crisis of 1956. Then the United States used its good offices to end the fighting between British-French-Israeli and Egyptian forces.

IN THE EISENHOWER DOCTRINE, which Congress approved early in 1957, however, the President was authorized to use force to protect the Near East from Communist aggression. This was a reiteration of the policy to take the country to the brink of war if necessary to preserve the peace.

Twice last year the United States took this calculated risk; first when it sent troops into Lebanon, next when it again offered support to Formosa during the second stepped-up Communist offensive against Quemoy and Matsu.

But President Eisenhower is taking no such belligerent attitude in his approach to the new Berlin situation. This time it's the Russians who are entertaining "brinkmanship"—threatening war if their terms are not met.

DISCUSSING THE BERLIN situation at his last press conference, the President declared that it is not the United States that is threatening to use force, it's the other side.

The United States is merely saying that it will not abandon its responsibilities. These are the preservation of a West Berlin allied to Western Germany and the maintenance of open lines of supply and communication between the two. They are responsibilities jointly assumed by the United States, Britain, France and Russia at Potsdam in 1945.

The President said, "We are not saying that we are going to shoot our way into Berlin," after he was asked specifically about Russian Chairman Nikita Khrushchev's statement that it would mean war if the United States tried to shoot its way into Berlin after Russia turns over occupied East Germany.

On the surface, this may sound as though the President will not take the country to the brink of war to preserve the peace. Under the surface, that is not the implication. For American responsibility to support West Berlin can be carried out only by force if the Communists use force to prevent it.

Women's Council Has Promotional Plans for Young Republican Group

Warren County Council of Republican Women met in full force last evening in initial 1959 session and when joined by a group of interested young Republican men and women as well as several organization veterans, the crowd overflowed into the court house hall outside the small court room.

Highlight of the evening was an excellent talk by William Sennett, Erie attorney and district administrator for the district on behalf of the Young Republican group. Using local Republicans to spark a movement to again organize an active membership in the younger age brackets, Mr. Sennett stressed the importance of an alliance between all Republicans, mentioning the need for youthful enthusiasm and fresh ideas in the party.

He also pointed out that young GOP supporters are not necessarily rebels, but need to become acquainted with Republican principles and policies and stated that a natural interest in the political district should be channelled in the proper direction. The general feeling following Sennett's remarks was that a Young Republican organization will soon be functioning in Warren County, with District Attorney Samuel Bonaville volunteering to assist in setting up the mechanics.

The Republican Women's Council unanimously voted to assist in every way possible with an all-out drive for registrations during the month of March and, in addition to helping committeemen and women in all young precincts, pledged to seek out new registrations on their own.

Miss Sunnys Lucia, county registration chairman, addressed the group and pronounced complete satisfaction with the enthusiastic response.

Mr. Sennett's Ball, membership chairman for the annual Council drive announced that the campaign would open officially April 15 and continue through April 30. Several district chairmen have already been appointed.

Routine reports were read and approved and it was decided to continue regular monthly meetings. Political Activities chairman, Mrs. Fred Shattuck announced that the April session would feature a "meet the candidates" night with all Republican candidates for local and county offices invited to state views during an allotted five minute period. The March meeting will be devoted to registration and membership affairs as well as entertainment.

It was voted to conduct a mock bake sale among members items to be handed out next month. A committee will be appointed in the near future.

Mrs. Charles Hudson offered opening prayer with the entire assemblage joining in the pledge of allegiance.

A humorous note, proving the tremendous force of women was introduced when prior to the opening of the meeting a fuse blew leaving the gathering place in total darkness. Light dawned, however, within a very short time.

Coffee and cookies were served by the executive board and standing committee heads as many announced Republican candidates circulated petitions.

PTA Workshop On Legislation

A Legislative Workshop for the Northwest District, Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers, will be held March 7 in the Arlington Hotel in Oil City, with representation of units throughout the entire area.

Registration is scheduled at 9:15, with the initial session called at 9:45. Miss Mary T. Denman, Pittsburgh attorney and staff legislative consultant for the Pennsylvania Citizens' Association, will show and discuss a film, "The Legislative Process." Miss Denman will also be a consultant in the workshops that follow.

Daniel V. Skala, state chairman on cooperation with colleges and principal of Lawrence Park High School will direct the workshop on "Legislation Concerning Education," when specific bills on education will be discussed.

In the afternoon session Edmund L. Thomas of Erie, state chairman for juvenile protection will lead a group considering "Legislation Concerning Child Welfare." Information will be given on bills that have to do with welfare of children and youth.

Summary of the day's conferences will be given by Miss Denman, the Call to Action will be given by Miss L. K. Besenon, district vice president in charge of legislation and general chairman of the session dismissal will be by Miss Paul Nabat, district president.

Reservations for the workshop are to be made no later than March 2 with Mrs. Ray Fry, Oil City, RD 1.

Carroll Fowler Presents His High School Musicians in Fine Concert

Always one of the highlights on the mid-winter schedule, last night's presentation by Warren High School A Cappella Choir, in Beatty Junior High School auditorium, emphasized once more that school patrons will support a good music program for the young people.

Director Carroll Fowler and his young choristers faced a full house when the curtain went up on the flower-bedecked stage. Members of Warren High School Orchestra provided an instrumental background for the first group of traditional airs.

New on choir programs was the madrigal group sung by Judy Hutchens, Donna Jones, Sally DeLong, Martha Peed, Rodney Betts, Mark Peterson, Addison Scholes, Jr., and William Sedwick. Their three selections were received by the large audience with an enthusiasm that was most gratifying.

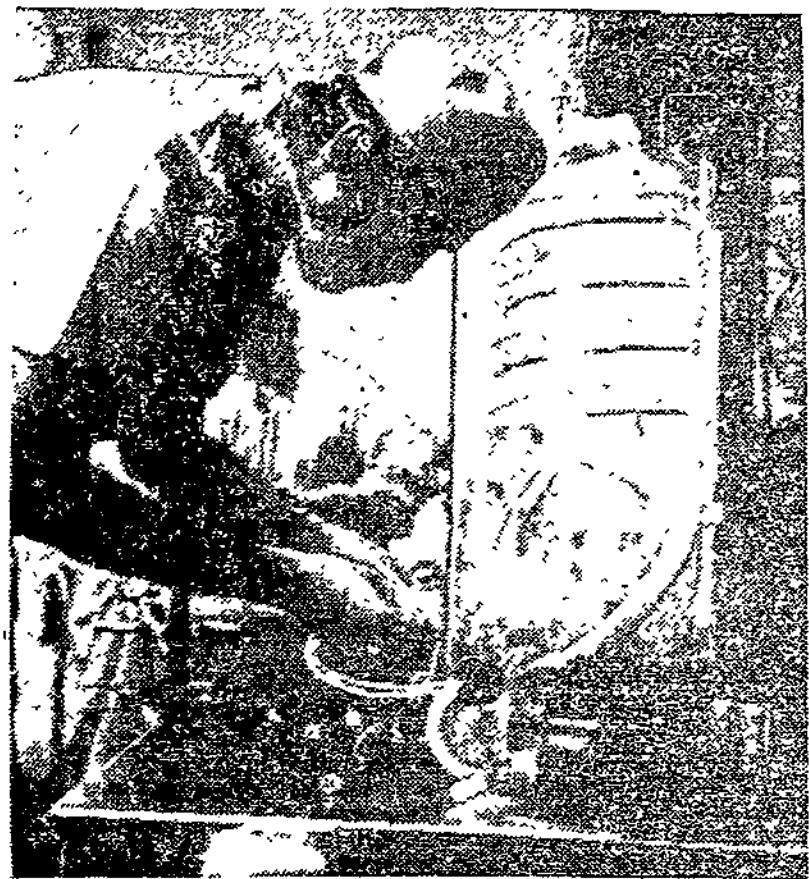

A group of spirituals, always popular on choir programs, was sung by the choir to complete its offerings in the first half of the program.

After intermission, a touch of humor was added in a Scrambled Opera presentation, in which James Eldridge, Robert Putnam, David Honnait, Murray Quiggle, Judy Anoree, Rosanna Oberig, Nancy Nichols, Sue Lawson, and Jay Kimmel were participants, with Geraldine Lundberg and Everett Haight as alternates.

Next were two selections in the classical manner, played as cello solos by Karen Ericsson, accompanied at the piano by Patty Hudock, and given hearty approval of the listeners.

Concluding, the choristers gave an exceptionally fine performance of Tchaikowsky's Nutcracker Suite, with special emphasis on the quality of the light and airy Waltz of the Flowers. Linda Darnem and Sue Werner were piano accompanists for this very lovely arrangement.

Miracle Machine

Among the recently-developed miracle machines of medicine is the so-called heart-lung machine, shown above right. It maintains the circulation of the blood while by-passing the heart, during operations in which damage to the heart is repaired by surgeons. "Priming" the machine requires 10 pints or more of blood less than 24 hours old. With increasing frequency in the past year, Red Cross regional blood centers have been supplying the blood for the delicate operations.

Aloneness as Important To Man as Togetherness

"Why don't women realize," asks one of my men readers, "that a man needs to be alone once in a while?"

"I'm a salesman," he says. "and I am with people all day long. If there is some problem I want to think about, either business or personal, I try to get off by myself for an hour or two—but my wife won't have it."

"She seems to think that if I'm in one room and she is in another she has to do something about it. So she'll follow me to the spot where I've gone off to be alone and start to chatter, or she'll send one of the children to tell me I simply must watch a TV show. If she is in a bad mood she will complain that she is sick of the noise and ask to see a movie."

"I tell you it never fails. I simply cannot get a few minutes alone in my own house. If I answer her absent-mindedly when she starts to chatter she accuses me of not hearing a word she is saying."

"If I say I'd rather read than watch the TV show, she says 'You can read that old book any time.' If I say I don't want to go to a movie because I have a business problem I want to work out she says, 'You aren't working, you're just sitting.'"

"Don't misunderstand me. I love my wife. But just once in a while I'd like to be left undisturbed for an hour or two. Why can't a woman understand that?"

Maybe she acts that way because you've never tried to explain it to her. Perhaps you have just expected her to be sensitive enough to your feelings to know when you prefer aloneness to togetherness.

Try explaining to her that while she has hours of being alone during the day you have none, and that your only chance for solitude is in your own home.

Today's wives have been sold on the idea of togetherness to such an extent that many of them feel that they are failures if they aren't sharing every leisure moment with their husbands.

It looks, from your letter, as though husbands are going to have to do a little selling on the idea that there can be too much togetherness in a happy marriage.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

Two traveling salesmen, who prayed together in a dreary Wisconsin hotel room more than 60 years ago, started a movement which has provided inspiration to sojourners ever since. A near-hopeless alcoholic who stole a Bible from a Virginia hotel testifies: "I began to read it daily... I have been sober since through His grace and the Alcoholics Anonymous program."

A young man jailed in Los Angeles says: "I was sitting in my cell completely disgusted with myself when I noticed a Bible on a shelf... I could feel a change take place in my heart and soul."

The Bibles were placed in hotel and cell by Gideons International, an association of Christian businessmen founded by the two praying salesmen.

Since their founding, the Gideons have placed 38 million Bibles and Testaments in hotels, prisons, hospitals, army camps, trains and airplanes in 30 different countries.

Bible Words for Today

ISAIAH 54:13 — "And all thy children shall be taught of the Lord, and great shall be the peace of thy children."

What can the home do to assure the children in it a happy, abundant life? Isaiah answers this question simply and to the point: "And all thy children shall be taught of the Lord."

Just what does Isaiah mean? First, he means the child must be taught God's love in the home. He must not be told of God's love alone, but be able to feel it permeating the life of his home. The loveless home is indeed the Godless home no matter what its piety or pretensions.

Isaiah means also that the child should be taught the truth that the Godly home is the happy home. The Christian home is the vessel of the highest kind of happiness for the entire family. Are you giving your children the time they need just to know you as a happy, fun-loving, life-loving person? The somber home is not the Christian home.

Bring God's deep unselfish and warm love into the life of your family. If this love lives in your home then the rich happiness of the life in God will be shared.

Sewage Disposal Plans for DuBois Near Completion

Courier-Express: Final plans of the sewage disposal plant are expected to be completed by March 6, the DuBois Sewage Authority learned Tuesday night at a special meeting.

The information was contained in a letter from Edward F. Twomey of Morris & Knowles, Pittsburgh engineering firm.

Mr. Twomey states his firm expects to complete final plans for the sewage treatment plant here by March 6 and the specifications were 25 per cent complete.

Mr. Twomey predicts that if the proposed schedule is adhered to, construction of the plant will be under way at mid-summer and in preliminary operation by mid-1960.

The sewage authority also learned from Mr. Twomey that July 1, 1959 in the earliest date DuBois can be considered for a federal grant.

This is because available funds have already been exhausted or have been allocated to other communities, Mr. Twomey explained.

It was pointed out that DuBois should make application and if the application along with plans for the sewage treatment plant are submitted by April 15, this should be ample time for consideration.

Considerations for grants will be May 15 and announcements will follow.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — You will be happy to know that Jayne Mansfield's house is no longer as bare as she was in Brazil.

Remember all that jazz about Jayne and Mickey Hargitay sleeping on the floor in their barren Beverly Hills mansion? No more. They've got their own bed now. "Texas-size — that's bigger than king-size," explains Dallas-reared Jayne.

"There will be a heart-shaped red canopy over the bed," she said, pointing. "On the wall above the bedstead will be cupids and arrows in marble. And all around the bottom of the bed will be pink fluorescent lighting."

Jayne was giving me a personal tour of the remarkable house. She was wearing a remarkably filled blue sweater and black tights decorated with a pink pussy cat and pink tassels. Pink is a dominant theme here.

The house, built by Rudy Vallee in his "Vagabond Lover" days, is now pink with a special glitter added to the paint—"It shines just heavenly at night." Around the Sunset Blvd. property is a new pink stone wall.

"Come see my bathroom — it's divine," she urged. I did, and it is. The heart-shaped tub has a gold-mosaic bottom. The shower is studded with jeweled tiles.

"Mickey tore out the tile in all 11 bathrooms," she reported. "They were just too dreary. We'll put pink fur on the floor."

Jayne wandered on to the bedrooms of her daughter, Jayne Marie, 8, which was filled with dolls collected from Jayne's travels, and of her son, Miklos Jr., 2 months, who slumbered in his heart-shaped bed. The baby's room was painted with a fairy-tale mural which depicted Jayne as a witch. She pointed out that the rabbits in the design even had heart-shaped noses and navels.

Sole adornment of the ballroom-size living room so far is a fountain of white marble "from Hungary, just like Mickey." She said it would some day squirt champagne.

Oddities in the News

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Swedish actress Ingrid Bergman, absent from Hollywood for a decade, will appear on the Oscar awards show April 6, the Motion Picture Academy announced.

An Academy spokesman said she has accepted an invitation from the show's producer, Jerry Wald, and probably will be accompanied from Europe by her new husband Lars Schmidt.

SAN JUAN, Tex. (AP) — This town in the subtropical lower Rio Grande Valley planned a picnic and sport shirt festival to point up the usual fine winter weather. Last weekend it was too cold. The festival was set for this weekend.

But drizzle and cold weather most of the week killed off enthusiasm. Sponsors called it off and decided to wait until next year.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP) — A California health consultant says radiation will cause one of every four birth mutations this year.

Dr. Dell F. Dullum, an expert in radiologic health for the State Department of Public Health, expressed belief the cause would be strontium 90 from atomic fallout. He predicted in a speech to a group of health officers that the mutation rate would increase with use of X-rays at the present rate.

He said four of every 100 babies have some defect.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Richard Paulisch, 41, a jeweler and the father of six, filed a complaint of "incurable" against three of his sons in Juvenile Court Thursday.

He charged they ignored him, threatened him and threw stones at him. The boys are 13, 15 and 16.

"In the last couple of years," said Paulisch, "they've been getting worse and worse. I don't know why. They could be good boys. I want them to get straightened out before they get into serious trouble."

Paulisch accused his sons of having drinking and gambling parties in his home. He said they threatened him when he objected.

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Dave Beck Sr., once a giant figure on the U.S. labor scene, will be sentenced today for cheating on his income taxes.

Beck was convicted Feb. 19 by a federal court jury on six counts of income tax evasion and helping prepare fraudulent tax returns. He was accused of bilking the government out of $240,000 in income taxes for 1950-53.

U.S. Dist. Judge George H. Boldt could sentence Beck to a maximum of 30 years in prison and fine him $60,000.

Five Scouts Are Recognized for Unusual Service

At the recent Scout leaders Roundtable, held at Ludlow, five Scout leaders of the Chief Cornplanter Council were recognized for outstanding service.

Three awards were training awards, given in recognition of at least three years of service in Scouting, by completing the training requirements of the Scout council and at the same time help train other Scouters of the Council.

In recognition of this Leo Rapp, Explorer Advisor of Post #13 of North Warren, was presented with his Scouters Key. The other recipient of this award was Explorer Advisor Carl Lindberg of Post #2 of Warren.

Paul Reynolds, Assistant Scoutmaster of Troop #2 of Warren received the Scouters Award, which is a training award for assistant leaders in Scouting.

Each year a den mother of the year and a unit leader of the year are selected by the leaders of the Scout Council.

Paul Groesch, Scoutmaster of Troop #13 of North Warren, was selected as the unit leader of the year. A leader of this unit for the past 6 years, Paul was also instrumental in the formation of Post #13.

Mrs. Maxine Johnson, den mother of Pack #2 of the Jefferson Street PTA, was selected as the den mother of the year. A den mother for 3 years, Mrs. Johnson has served the past 2½ years as the secretary for Pack #2 and at present is the leader of the Webelos den, which is that part of the Cub Scout program for boys between 10½ and 11 years of age.

The presentations of these awards were among the highlights of the roundtable meeting which was attended by 50 Scout leaders of the council. Council Commissioner Joe Wick was in charge of the meeting.

Bids are Asked For Concessions At Cook Forest

Harrisburg — Secretary of Forests and Waters Maurice K. Goddard has announced that his department is now soliciting bids for food and refreshment concessions at five state parks. Goddard said the commonwealth is advertising for bids to be opened on March 3 in Harrisburg for a food, refreshment, and a novelty concession in the Log Cabin Inn, Cook Forest State Park, Clarion County, among others.

Terms of the leases will cover one year starting May 1 with options of renewal from year to year for a maximum of three years. Goddard cautioned bidders, however, that the bridge crossing the Clarion River at Cook Forest State Park and State Route 36 may be closed to all traffic until late September, 1959.

Deadline for bidding is noon on March 3. Proposal forms may be procured from the Department of Forests and Waters in Harrisburg or from district foresters.

THE FOLLOWING APPEARED IN THE COLUMN OF THE WARREN TIMES-MIRROR ON FEBRUARY 24th:

STAMPS AND SAVINGS

This interesting editorial on a timely subject appeared in a recent issue of The Christian Science Monitor:

The man of the house had better brace himself to face an "I told you so" glow from the little woman across the dinner table.

No less substantial a personage than Uncle Sam himself has announced that the shopper who saves and redeems trading stamps does come out ahead. She pays an average of six-tenths of 1 per cent more in stamp-giving stores, but the value of the stamps averages about 2 per cent of the money spent, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. When she redeems the stamps her average profit nets 1.4 per cent.

"That is," comments the USDA report with an accent that only can be described as masculine. "if you don't count the time and trouble it takes to save and redeem these stamps."

But what woman thinks of these transactions involving premiums in terms of "time and trouble"? To her they are fun and fulfillment. What is more deliciously satisfying to the one who is usually the chief watcher of the family purse and her of budget pennies than the feeling that she has not only acquired something she wants but might not otherwise have but that she often it practically "for free"?

In spite of controversies that have long waged over whether trading stamps represent a bonus or an expense to consumers, seven out of ten American housewives have been patronizing stores that issue trading stamps, reports Sperry & Hutchinson, a large trading stamp company.

Now Uncle Sam's findings, based on a survey to determine the effect of trading stamps on food prices in 21 cities in the period from November, 1953, to March, 1957, appear to vindicate the little woman's built-in ability to track down a bargain.

There have been only 22 days without precipitation since that time and most of the snow has fallen in a few storms. By way of comparison, Kane looks toward Mayville, N. A total of 221 inches of snow has been recorded at Mayville this winter—and they are looking for more. In the same area East Otto has measured 210½ inches and Franklinville 204½ inches. SAFE DRIVING TIP

A motorist should never be distracted while driving. Children in the front seat can prove extremely bothersome to the driver, and safety seats are recommended for youngsters to make sure they do not interfere with the driver's concentration. Common sense dictates that young children should not be allowed freedom of movement in the front seat while the car is in motion, points out the Chicago Motor Club. At no time should a child be permitted within easy reach of the car's driving mechanisms.

Matter of FACT

A Dutch scholar and statesman, Hugo Grotius, is considered the father of international law. His book, "The Right of War and Peace," published in 1625, said there was a natural law superior to the sovereignty of any state. He pointed out the difference between a just and an unjust war. He declared peace to be the goal of reasonable men. Many of Grotius' principles are followed to this day.

An Early Start Is Essential

Beautiful babies get that way with an assist from mother. Even a three-month-old baby can benefit from "setting up" exercises if they're done gently. This young mother starts out (left) by placing the palms of her hands against baby's feet and pushing gently. Baby usually will push back with surprising strength. She talks to her (upper right) as exercises progress to keep baby feeling that it's all in fun. And she stops exercises at first sign of a trembly lip. When baby is strong enough to hold her head erect easily, mother pulls her up gently by her hands (lower right) and then lowers her carefully. Gradually, she will raise baby higher until she see-saws to sit up and back.

BY ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

Beautiful babies are not a matter of choice. A clear-eyed, strong-limbed, happy baby is one who has been given loving care. And her beauty is built on the firm foundation of good health and cleanliness.

If mom is faithful about her baby's periodic visits to the doctor, meticulous about her laundry, sensible about her diet, and careful not to overdress her when she is outdoors, the new member of the family should be a bright, healthy bundle from heaven.

Mothers often make the mistake of believing baby to be a good deal more fragile than she is, and even on a mild day bundle her up to the hilt for her airing on the porch. The result is that she perspires profusely and may become chilled. Dress her suitably, but don't overdo it, for babies often need less clothing, comparatively speaking, than adults.

There is another way to help your baby to be happy and strong. And it's fun for mom and dad, too.

Few parents are aware of the fact that even a three-month-old infant can enjoy and benefit from "setting up" exercises—provided they're not overdone.

These exercises have been suggested by experts at the Chix Diaper Institute, who warn of a few points to bear in mind before you start. A trembly chin or a whimper means stop. A smile means go ahead. And when dad is baby's partner, ask him to be gentle.

1. Place your hands firmly against baby's feet and push up gently. She usually pushes back with surprising strength.

2. Pull her legs out straight and hold them for a moment. Then relax your grip and let them go back to normal position. She will soon learn to flex her legs by herself.

3. Hold her hands. Move her arms slowly in and out. Try it to a slow song—she'll get double enjoyment.

4. When she can easily hold her head erect, try pulling her up gently by her hands—at first, just an inch or two—and then lowering her carefully. Gradually raise her higher until she see-saws to sit up and back.

5. With a firm hold on baby's thighs, rotate her hips from left to right, right to left. In a few days, her shoulder muscles will begin to help. One morning she'll manage to flip-flop right over on her stomach.

In addition to exercise, these baby calisthenics provide companionship, one of the infant's prime needs.

Remember that your baby's health and happiness rest mainly with you. With sensible, loving care, you can know the joy of having a cheerful, beautiful baby in your home.

The shapely contour of these new swimsuits is achieved through expert handling of the wool knit from which they are cut. Both suits have inner bras. Sheath (left) is trimmed with braid which extends to form straps. Maillot in embossed, brocade-type pattern (right) is trimmed in white wool knit. Broad straps are elasticized to stay on the shoulders in the water.—By GALE DUGAS, NEA Women's Editor.

Radio and TV

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—Spinning the television programming wheel for the coming week, I'll pick (all times Eastern Standard):

Saturday at noon on CBS Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic offer another in their monthly series aimed primarily at children. Musically, I'm enough of a child to enjoy this hour and be informed.

At 4:30 there will be more horse racing from Hialeah, Fla., when NBC turns its cameras on the Flamingo Stakes. At 9 on NBC Ginger Rogers and Louis Jourdan will appear in an original musical review, "Accent on Love," which spoofs the many facets of romance in comedy, dance, song and story. Guests will include Marge and Gower Champion, Elaine May and Mike Nichols, singers Jaye P. Morgan and Danny Costello.

Evangelist Billy Graham returns to television in the first of at least six programs over ABC

On "Look Up and Live" Sunday at 10:30 a.m. over CBS actress Siobhan McKenna and poet W. H. Auden appear in the first program of a new four-part series, "This Bent World," analyzing the problems faced by Catholics through dramatizations of the works of various writers.

"Is America Anti-Intellectual?" is the subject of a discussion program "The Great Challenge" on CBS at 2:30 with prominent educators participating. Eric Sevareid moderates.

At 5 "Omnibus" presents on NB CA new play written for television by William Saroyan, "The Sweet Mystery of Mrs. Murphy."

The first of a two-part study of the attitudes of college youth today, "Generation Without A Cause," will be seen on "20th Century" over CBS at 6:30.

Monday at 9:30 on ABC Bing Crosby presents one of his infrequent TV shows. His guests will include his twin sons, Dennis and Phillip, and singer Jo Stafford.

Cub Manager Says Cincinnati Reds "Most Improved"

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bob Scheffing, Chicago Cubs manager, looked over the National League today and called the Cincinnati Reds the most improved team in the senior circuit.
"Mind you, I'm not saying which team's going to finish where, but the way I see it, Cincinnati improved the most over the winter," Scheffing said. "Getting Frank Thomas from the Pirates was a big move for the Reds."
"Then, they'll have that kid outfielder Vada Pinson back and he's impressed me every time I saw him play."
Scheffing wasn't particularly optimistic about his own team. "We improved last year because Ernie Banks had a tremendous season. Co did Bobby Thompson, Alvin Dark and Lee Walls. Will they do as well this time? I really don't know."
Banks, the league's most valuable player, took batting practice for the first time Thursday and knocked the ball 25 feet over the fence on his third swing.
Thomas also got in some good looks at Cincinnati's camp in Tampa, Fla. The slugger hit several of Don Newcomb's pitches out of the park and later predicted he would hit between 30 and 35 homers for his new club.

Duquesne Still Losing In the Second Half
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Duquesne seems to lose most of its basketball games in the second half.
Such was the case Thursday night as Cincinnati "walloped" the Dukes 88-69 in Cincinnati behind the 36 points of All-America Oscar Robertson.
Duquesne hit on 56 per cent of its shots to force a 43-43 halftime tie.
In the second half Cincinnati used the fast break and control of both backboards to score 45 points. The Dukes only scored 26 in the second half.

Mickey Mantle at St. Petersburg to Talk With Mgr.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankee's No. 1 power man, arrived here Thursday night and said he planned to call General Manager George Weiss for a salary conference today.

The 26-year-old centerfield star did not say whether he would sign his contract, but indicated that he and the Yankees were not far apart.
Mantle, who earned $72,000 last year, reportedly is holding out for a $3,000 raise.
Weiss, after sending Mickey a contract calling for $65,000, has agreed to boost the figure but apparently wants Mantle to agree to certain conditions before yielding to the slugger's demands for $75,000.

Mickey wants no part of any conditional contract.

SECTION CHAMPS — Yying for laurels in competition for southern section of District 10 title in Franklin High gym Saturday will be the above Dragon grapplers. his matmen through an undefeated season until last week's tournament. Puzzling thing about Mentor Miller, we're wondering just where all that proud chest came from! Fourth photo shows 'er' Gail Page, undefeated with 8 wins (including 4 pins), who'll wrestle in the 120-pound bracket Saturday; and lastly is big Jim Olson, heavyweight at 185. Jim's captured 4 out of 6 bouts, tying one and losing one. Winners of Saturday's contest meet with Section I winners a week from now to decide the fate of District 10 crown. — Timesphotos Saylor.

Armstrong Takes On Scortichini At Garden Tonight

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Business is picking up for Gene (Ace) Armstrong, the undefeated middleweight.

The 27-year-old contender from Elizabeth, N.J., takes on Italo Scortichini, the Italian middleweight king, in a television 10-rounder (NBC 10 p.m. EST) at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Armstrong is the 2-1 favorite. This marks Armstrong's second fight of the year. That matches his activity for all of 1958. Some times it doesn't pay to be too good. The Ace, who has a 16-0 record for 3½ years of pro fighting, has been finding it difficult to get the other members of the top 10 elite to mingle with him. Armstrong is ranked fifth by the NBA and 10th by Ring.

Scortichini, unranked, is willing to fight anyone. On his two previous invasions of the United States and through 1953-1956, he fought 22 times with so-so results in the ring. Financially, the curly-haired Italian did far better.

Fighting against the top welters and middleweights, Scorty just managed a 9-11-2 record. But he made enough dough to buy up several houses and land in Italy and has a good bank account to go with it. He thinks he'll do better both in the ring and in the finance department this time.

British Fighters Found Among Top Ten Heavyweights

NEW YORK (AP) — Throw away those old gags about horizontal British heavyweights. For the first time since Ring Magazine started its world boxing ratings 33 years ago, three of the big boys from the British Isles occupied berths among the heavyweight division's top 10 contenders.

The monthly ring ratings, released today, had British and British Empire champion Henry Cooper fourth and two former British and B. E. rulers, Brian London and Joe Erskine, ninth and tenth, respectively.

Erskine, a 25-year-old Welshman, rejoined the select group on the strength of his upset, 10-round decision over American Willie Pastvano in London Monday.

Pastrano, of Miami Beach, Fla., was dropped from fifth place to seventh for his narrow defeat.

In all, half of the list was filled by foreigners. Sweden's undefeated European heavyweight champion, Ingemar Johansson, and Cuba's Nino Valdes maintained their one-two positions.

The remainder of the top 10 includes Zora Folley, Chandler, Ariz, third; Sonny Liston, Philadelphia, fifth; light heavyweight champion Archie Moore, San Diego, Calif., sixth, and Eddie Machen, Redding, Calif., eighth.

Liston was named "fighter of the month" for his knockout over tall, Mike DeJohn of Syracuse, N.Y. DeJohn was removed from the list to make way for Erskine.

Manager Rigney Joins Team at Phoenix Today

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Manager Bill Rigney is scheduled to arrive at the San Francisco Giants spring training camp in Phoenix today.

Rigney has been recovering from injuries suffered in a recent auto accident. During his absence Coach Frank (Salty) Parker has been in charge of the workouts.

Giants officials said Rigney probably would wait until next week to suit up and join the club on the field. Until then, he'll direct the team from a seat in the bleachers.

Miss Heiss Looks Ahead After Her Fourth Crown Win

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — The queen of figure skating, incomparable Carol Heiss of the United States, looked ahead today to the 1960 Olympics after sailing off with her fourth straight world title Thursday night.

None among the 15 challengers from seven other nations seriously threatened the reign of the 19-year-old New York University coed.

Austria's Hanna Walter placed second. Following in order were Sjoukje Dijkstra of The Netherlands, Ina Bauer of West Germany and Barbara Ann Roles of Paramount, Calif.

Carol's coach, Pierre Brunel, and others said her free skating performance was not up to her usual standard Thursday night.

"I gave too much in the first part of my program and then my legs became wobbly," Carol said. "That was horrifying. I was afraid I would weaken near the end."

Brunel said Carol's showing suffered from the lack of a suitable practice schedule at the Broadmoor Ice Palace. He said the relatively small rink cramped training sessions.

Only Miss Walter of the top performers took a spill. She blamed this on a combination of fatigue and nervousness.

Carol and Miss Dijkstra were the only skaters to successfully complete the double axel—a maneuver in which the skater leaps high into the air and completes two and one-half turns.

The competition continued today with the men's compulsory figures followed by compulsory dances tonight.

Robertson Is Close to Second Scoring Title

Big Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati moved closer to his second straight college basketball scoring title Thursday night. The Bearcats star pumped in 36 points against Duquesne to boost his season's average to 33.4.

Leo Byrd of Marshall, the runner-up, also had a good night. He tallied 34 points against Morehead (Ky.) and raised his average to 30.3, according to NCAA Service Bureau figures.

Cincinnati and W. Virginia In High Stride for NCAA

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Cincinnati and West Virginia, two basketball powers with a bone to pick, are hitting high stride at the right time in their drive toward conference titles and the NCAA Tournament.

The Bearcats, bidding for another Missouri Valley championship behind the great Oscar Robertson, ran their winning streak to 14 Thursday night with an 88-68 pasting of a Duquesne team that had seven victories in its last nine games. Robertson fired in 36 points, upping his average to 33.4.

West Virginia, going after its fifth straight Southern Conference championship, battered Davidson 100-63 in the first round of the conference tournament at Richmond. The Mountaineers play their semi-final tonight against William & Mary, an 87-69 winner over host Richmond.

It was West Virginia's 16th triumph in its last 17 games and, coupled with Cincy's 14-game win streak, puts the pair at the peak they reached in the stretch last year only to fail in the national tournament.

George Washington, holding high-scoring Bobby Ayersman to a mere five points, upset second-seeded Virginia Tech 85-

67 and Art Musseiman's 36 points led The Citadel to a 93-88 victory over Furman in the other tournament games at Richmond. The latter pair play tonight, with the winner facing the West Virginia-William & Mary victor in the Saturday night final.

Dragons End Season With "Tenacious" Meadville Five

If you like to witness a basketball team that defensively applies constant pressure on their opponents unrelentingly, unmercifully from start to finish, tonight's attraction at Beauty court should be the ticket.

Franklin Knights, a whirling, tenacious, befuddling defensive outfit comes to Warren to help close out the current cage season and in so doing are bent on avenging a stunning 59-50 upset the Dragons scored on the Knights own balltick. Warren's victory over the McCulloch coached five was the only loss suffered on the home floor by the Red and Black cagers and they also feel that it was this loss that started them on the slide which ultimately dropped them out of the league leadership.

All this plus the fact that practically the entire Warren roster is filled with players who will be wearing Blue and White colors for the last time

Winter Olympic Facilities Get Champions' Test

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—An international field including top athletes of Europe and the United States inaugurates Squaw Valley's Olympic speed skating and nordic skiing facilities Saturday.

Four days of competition include cross country and ski jumping and four skating races from 500 to 1,000 meters.

Closely watched will be the effects of the 6,000-foot altitude on such champions as Sweden's Sixten Jernberg and Per-Erik Larsson in the cross country and Finland's Juhani Jaervinen and Toivo Salonen in the skiing.

A field of about 125, including 50 foreigners, will compete in nine events in the North American nordic skiing championships and a world invitational skating meet. Nations represented are Canada, England, Finland, Japan, Norway, Sweden, Russia and Austria.

Recently crowned United States ski jumping champion Willie Erickson of Kingstford, Mich., faces such internationally famous jumpers as Kalevi Karhunen of Finland, brother of the 1956 Olympic champion; Russia's Dmitri Kochkin and Yuri Samsonov, and Canada's champion Jack Charnland.

Lubanski's Fine Tourney Showing Hints Keg Award

ST. LOUIS (AP) — After Ed Lubanski's performance in the American Bowling Congress Tourney Wednesday and Thursday, he seems destined to win the coveted "bowler of the year" award of the Bowling Writers Assn.

Ed, of Detroit, and his Pfeiffer Beer team broke two ABC records. Lubanski's 2116 all-events total wiped out the 2083 record set two years ago by Jim Spalding of Louisville, Ky. His 764 in the singles was the third highest set in that category. He leads both divisions.

The Pfeiffer's 2243 series in the open team division, including Ed's 700 contribution, is a record and the team's 1176 finale was the third highest single game in the team division.

And the Pfeiffer's 9561 team all-events total is the second highest in the 55-year history of the tournament.

The Pfeiffer barrage was more than enough to stop the St. Louis Falstaffs, defending ABC team champions. The team shot a 5010 series to move into fourth place.

NCAA Tourney Adds Three Colleges in Field

NEW YORK (AP) — DePaul of Chicago, Idaho State and Portland (Ore.) today were named at-large entries in the NCAA Basketball Tournament, bringing to 10 the number of teams in the field for the collegiate championships.

The selections, made by R. S. (Spec) Keene of Oregon State — the chairman of the NCAA's Western Selection Committee, were announced by the NCAA Service Bureau here.

Idaho State, the leader in the Rocky Mountain Conference, will be making a record seventh successive appearance in the tournament. Only four-time champion Kentucky has made more overall appearances, 10.

It's the fourth time in the NCAA for DePaul and the first for Portland.

DePaul and Portland will meet in a first round game at Portland, Ore., at a date to be chosen, probably March 9, 10 or 11. The winner will advance to the Midwest regional at Lawrence, Kan., to play Kansas State of the Big Eight Conference as part of a doubleheader March 13.

Only three more at-large teams remain to be chosen — all for the Eastern regional preliminaries at New York's Madison Square Garden on March 10. The Ivy League champion customarily gets one of these three berths. Navy, Boston University and Manhattan are among the possibilities for the other two spots.

Face Pitches Three Innings in Squad Game

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—Ace reliever Roy Face of the Pittsburgh Pirates made a rare starting appearance Thursday, pitching the first three innings of an intersquad game.

Since the two teams were comprised mostly of rookies, Face was asked if he had been demoted.

"Heck, no," cracked the little right-hander. "This a promotion. I'm starting for the Grays this afternoon."

Face appeared in 57 games last season without starting a single one.

Catcher Hank Foiles missed Thursday's practice session because of a pulled leg muscle.

Matter of FACT

The highest decoration given by the government of France is the Legion of Honor. The legion was founded in 1802 by Napoleon Bonaparte as part of his program for binding the French to him. Napoleon directed that membership in the legion be given for unusually distinguished military or civil service. He established several grades of membership, but these have been reduced to five: chevaliers (the lowest), officers, commanders, grand officers and grand crosses.

Girls Have Their Own Ideas About That First-Date Kiss

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

He was tall, good-looking and the big wheel on Betty's campus. On their first date, he drove to a secluded lane, parked his car and demanded a kiss. She felt that he was rushing her and said so. When he persisted, his disinterest in what she felt frightened her. Jumping out of the car, she got away from him.

Later, ashamed of herself, he called at her home. Making his apologies to her father, he said, "I've always expected girls to go along with what I want rather than lose me."

He was an actor playing the role of Jerry. Betty Anderson's new date in a recent TV episode of "Father Knows Best." In the sound-proof room where its producers had just screened it for some teen-agers and me, lights went on, and the youngsters were asked for comments.

"It's always up to girls to draw the line," a pretty, pony-tailed girl said.

"Yeah, but it's always up to us to try and make them stretch it," called a boy from the back row.

"If a girl doesn't want to kiss a fellow on their first date," said the dark-haired girl beside me, "she can find other ways to show her interest in him."

A good-looking boy in the front row turned around to her. "A kiss should have some meaning," he said. "I certainly don't want to kiss just any girl to satisfy my ego."

I spoke up. "How many of you boys agree with Jerry's idea that a girl should go along with what you want—or lose you?"

No boy agreed. A girl said boldly, "If a boy dropped me because I wouldn't kiss him on a first date, I'd feel I was well rid of him."

"I have another question," I said. "How do you girls feel about Betty's father taking Jerry's apologies for her instead of calling her and letting her do what she wanted to with them?"

"They all turned to stare at me. 'I'd be wild if my parents did that to me!'" a girl exclaimed.

"Then boys who think they know best when they insist on kisses are not so different from parents who always know best?" I asked. They were bright young people. The girl beside me said slowly, "Maybe that's what this discussion is really about. Maybe we girls just don't like people who ignore our right to have feelings of our own."

When a U. S. marine sergeant stationed in Cuba was "taken to the hills" by Cuban rebels last summer, his parents were notified he was missing; then a week later that he was free. When no word came from him, they became anxious and went to their Red Cross chapter, which flashed a query to Cuba. The reply soon came back that the sergeant was in the base hospital, recovering from his experience. Seamstress for Half a Century Dies Thursday

One of Warren's oldest citizens and well known seamstress for more than a half century, Miss Mary Hogan died at 3:00 p. m. Thursday at the home of her niece, Mrs. Virginia Miller Spink, with whom she made her home at 20 West Third avenue. She had been in failing health for the past several years.

Born in Titusville, Miss Hogan came to Warren in 1904 and was asked to take charge of the dressmaking department for Metzger and Hogan's Department Store, which later became the Smith, Metzger-Wright Company, and still later, the present Metzger-Wright Company.

A genuine artist in her professional field, Miss Hogan was one of Warren's leading needlewomen until she retired in 1939. After serving the several department stores for 35 years, she opened her own shop and enjoyed the patronage of those who appreciated a fine seamstress.

During World War I, she was an instructor for sewing classes sponsored by the American Red Cross, and taught sewing classes for the YWCA.

Surviving her are the following nieces and nephews: Mrs. Spink, Walter and Donald Hogan, Warren; Miss Jeannette Hughes, Pittsburgh; Lawrence and Lewis Hogan, Red Hook, N. Y.; Tom, William and Al Hogan, Cleveland, O.

Miss Hogan was a member of St. Joseph's church and services in her memory will be held there at 10:00 a. m. Monday. Interment will follow in St. Catherine's cemetery at Titusville. (Titusville Herald please copy)

MRS. ERNEST MARSH

Word has been received from Columbus, O., of the death of Mrs. Ernest Marsh, wife of the Rev. Ernest Marsh, on February 14. Born at Nelsonville, O., on March 19, 1902, she was an elder in the Church of the Nazarene and an active worker in the church until a few weeks prior to her death.

Besides her husband, who is a former Warren resident, she leaves one daughter, Mrs. Ronald Stahl, in Columbus.

Services in her memory were followed by interment in Glen Rest Memorial Park in Reynoldsburg, O.

JOHN A. PETERSON

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Monday in James-town for John A. Peterson, 84 year old resident of 88 Sturges Street, Jamestown, who died at 5:45 p. m. Thursday. Rev. Axel Y. Beckman, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran church, will officiate, and interment will be made in Sunset Hill cemetery.

Mr. Peterson was born in Warren May 5, 1874, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Peterson. He was employed as a carpenter by United Lumber Company for 15 years, before his retirement a year ago. Among his survivors is a brother, Hjalmer Peterson, of Warren.

Funerals

MISS MARY HOGAN

Friends will be received at the Leo D. Gibson Funeral Home at the usual calling hours, starting at 7:00 p. m. Saturday, and the parish rosary will be recited there at 3:00 p. m. Sunday. 120 miles northeast of St. Johns, Newfoundland. The boarding party was trying to learn what caused breaks in five transatlantic cables in that area.

But the threat of serious trouble was eased by the Navy's report that no indication had been found aboard the boat of any intentions other than fishing. The captain of the vessel, the Novorossisk, was reported friendly and cooperative.

May 27, about 90 days hence, is the end of a six-month period Khrushchev mentioned for talks over his demand last November that the Western allies pull their forces out of Berlin.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), assistant majority leader of the Senate, asked for a full public discussion that is understood by the people "if they are asked to give their lives, as well they may be."

But three Republican senators—Hugh Scott (Pa.), Kenneth B. Keating (N.Y.) and Winston L. Prouty (Vt.)—said after a conference with President Eisenhower they got the impression "the government is prepared to meet any situation." They declined to elaborate.

Stassen's office said he left after the meeting for New York and could not be reached.

His most likely opponent in the city election would be Mayor Richardson Dilworth, expected to get Democratic backing for a third term.

operate in that area and accidental cable damage sometimes occurs in normal deep sea fishing operations.

But the Pentagon said that aerial reconnaissance by American planes "confirmed extended operations of Novorossisk in the area of the cable breaks at the time the breaks occurred."

Under orders from the commander in chief of the Atlantic Fleet, Adm. Jerauld Wright, five men from the antisubmarine radar picket ship Roy O. Hale climbed aboard the Novorossisk at noon Thursday.

The trawler was about 120 miles off St. Johns, Newfoundland, in international waters. Wright ordered the boarding party to make the check under a provision of a 1938 treaty to protect cables. Although it was the Soviet government of Russia which originally joined in the treaty, officials here said the Soviet government adhered to it in 1926.

In an initial report, Wright said that the skipper of the Hale, Lt. Cmdr. E. J. Korte, and his four men found that the Novorossisk was equipped for deep sea fishing and that all the ship's documents were in order.

Extra Penny

before any action can be taken on actual payments.

Lawrence said the additional penny a pack tax on cigarettes would yield an estimated 12½ million dollars a year over a 12 year period, starting May 1.

At this rate, Lawrence agreed with his advisory committee, that enough money could be raised to pay back a bond issue and interest at 3½ per cent.

"The commonwealth gave bonuses to its veterans of World Wars I and II," Lawrence said. "We are just as proud of those who served during the Korean conflict. They are equally as deserving and it is time they received this recognition."

Officials of the Military Affairs Department said earlier that it would be at least six months after final passage of any financing and enabling legislation before bonus payments could be made.

The administration plan stipulates that the extra penny a pack tax would expire at the end of 12 years when the bond issue was repaid.

"The scope of some programs would be increased somewhat under the governor's plan," said the source who declined quotation by name. "But, as of the moment, you couldn't say that anything entirely new will be suggested."

For example, Lawrence was expected to ask for 10 million dollars for industrial development loans compared to the three millions voted two years ago.

Most of the 425 millions that will be asked by Lawrence is intended to offset an anticipated deficit of 178 million dollars and prevent recurrence of the deficit in the next two years.

The largest single departmental boost is expected to be in public instruction which received 754 millions in the current biennium. The new figure is likely to approach 900 millions because of increased state aid to colleges and a hike of nearly 100 millions in public school subsidies, principally for teacher salary advances.

The next largest hike is anticipated in the Public Welfare Department whose principal functions are administering the relief, mental hospital and general hospital programs.

$12,000 Loss in Early Morning Fire

Awakened by smoke and flames licking through his bedroom floor, a 69-year-old Grand Valley area man barely escaped with his life Thursday morning after smashing a window to gain exit.

Verne L. Stull, was awakened about 4:35 a. m. by coughing caused by smoke. Stull said he could see flames coming through the floor. He grabbed a near-by chair containing his clothes and smashed a window.

The bachelor escaped from a porch, roof barefooted, even leaving his eyeglasses behind.

He aroused a neighbor who called Titusville Firemen. Wayne Gilson, the neighbor, told firemen the house was completely gone but wanted their aid in saving other nearby buildings.

The house, built by Stull and recently furnished with modern furniture and appliances, was located on Spring Creek Road, Grand Valley RD 1, at Gilson Corners. Stull estimated his loss at $12,000, partially covered by insurance.

Chicago's Next Mayor Will Get $35,000 Yearly

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago's next mayor to be elected in April, will be paid $35,000 a year, an increase of $10,000 now being paid Mayor Richard J. Daley.

The City Council voted the pay increase by a 43 to 0 vote Thursday but it cannot become effective until the mayoral inauguration in mid-April.

Polio Cripple Killed Under Train at Play

REDDING, Calif. (AP) — Richard Tobiasson, 10, a polio cripple, was killed by a freight train Thursday as he played between Southern Pacific tracks.

In 1956 Richard attracted wide attention when he said he wanted to get well so he could join the Marines. Marine Maj. Gen. Robert H. Pepper sent the boy his autographed picture and a letter of encouragement. Marines at Camp Pendleton, Calif., sent him chevrons and he had quite a collection.

Richard had discarded the brace he once wore and was able to ride a bicycle.

He and a nephew, Robert Tobiasson, 6, were picking up stones from between the rails. Robert saw the train barely in time to jump clear. Richard didn't see the freight.

Striking Mexican Workers Ordered To Return to Jobs

BULLETIN

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Railway workers trickled back to their jobs today, ending a strike that paralyzed more than two-thirds of Mexico's rail transportation.

The first of the 60,000 striking workers began showing up at station and yards at 9:30 a. m. That was the hour set Thursday night when union leaders and officials of the government-owned railroads reached agreement giving the workers an average 4 per cent raise and medical and housing benefits.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Some 60,000 striking Mexican railroad workers were ordered back to the job today after an agreement giving them an average 4 per cent raise and medical and housing benefits.

Union head Demetrio Vallejo said all men would be back on the job by 9:30 a. m. to resume full operations. Some workers returned Thursday night to put the yards in order.

It was a quick end to the first serious threat to President Adolfo Lopez Mateos' three-month-old government. A prolonged strike undoubtedly would have spawned widespread labor trouble.

The strike had stopped operations on two-thirds of the 14,000 miles of government-owned rail lines since noon Wednesday. Most of the major routes were affected.

Windsor introduced a proposed constitutional amendment which would abolish the Legislature and the courts and transfer their duties to the governor's office. He did not mention Faubus by name.

But, he added, "It has become the vogue to flatter the governor. I thought I would get in on the act."

Mich. Farmer Protests Acreage Restrictions

Stanley Yankus Jr. of Dowagiac, Mich., told a House Agriculture subcommittee he was fined $4,562 plus interest and costs from 1954 through 1958 "for the strange crime of producing crops."

Yankus said the fines and penalties stemmed from his refusal to observe wheat acreage restrictions imposed by the Agricultural Stabilization Committee.

The lanky, bespectacled farmer said he never had accepted any price support payments. He said he raised wheat and barley on his 100-acre farm solely for consumption by his chickens.

SAFE DRIVING TIP

Following a car ahead too closely can lead to serious trouble.

For every 10 miles per hour on your speedometer you should be one car length behind the vehicle ahead of you, warns the Chicago Motor Club. Don't swing to the right around left-turning vehicles if you can't see what's ahead.

Be sure before you change traffic lanes that the road ahead is clear. On the open road never pass on the right side.

Co. Motor Club Has Visit From Travel Expert

Marlin F. Wood, travel consultant from the American Automobile Association headquarters in Washington, D. C. has been spending the last two days at the Warren County Motor Club, one of over 750 affiliated club offices in the United States and Canada.

Mr. Wood's work is to share with the local personnel all new materials available in the travel service field, as well as assisting with any new procedures, to expand the service given to local and visiting AAA members.

As travel consultant, Mr. Wood is available to any of the AAA clubs, helping them with their work. He travels approximately 45,000 miles a year.

The AAA, through its more than 750 club offices has just over 6,000,000 members. Last year 10,000,000 routines were prepared for their members. Many of the clubs also provide world wide travel service, and the local club is able to assist its members in their travels abroad.

Approximately 90,000,000 persons take an annual vacation and about 85 per cent travel by automobile. With the constant improvement of highways and the completion of segments of the Interstate Highway program, Americans and Canadians will be traveling longer distances on their trips. THEY WOULDN'T RATHER EAT CAKE

French History, Appetites Revolve Around Bread

BY NEA SERVICE

PARIS—(NEA)—Half a loaf may be better than none to the average American housewife, but not to the women of France. They want a whole one—and fresh, too.

Bread, all sizes and shapes, is an important feature, an essential one, to the French meal. Apart from tradition, bread is the one cheap staple they can count on in a high-priced economy.

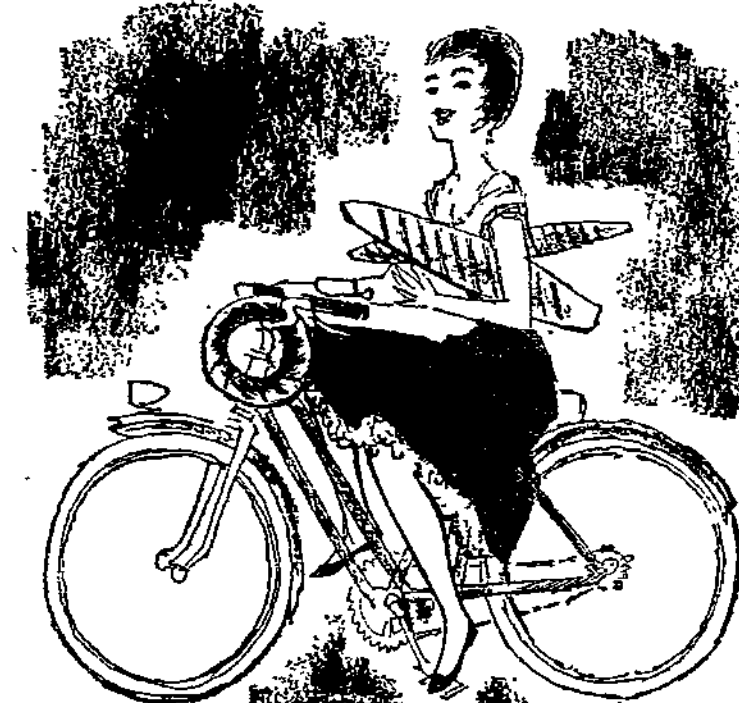

Not long ago the French government was jolted by a "bread revolt" that spread through the country.

At the time, bakers demanded a one-franc-per-pound increase in the government-controlled price of bread. When they were refused, ovens all over France cooled.

NEAR-PANIC followed the bakery shop strike, hitting the French where it hurt most—on the supper table. Long lines formed for the little bread that was rationed. French army ovens were pressed into service, and rocks were hurled through bakery windows.

In time—a compromise was reached between government and bakers, but not until many families were forced to endure breadless dinners.

Bread everywhere in France

tastes just about the same. Law prohibits the use of preservatives in the loaves, so the bread must be eaten the same day it is made or it becomes hard as a rock.

Although there is little difference in taste, French bread is found in every possible shape. Some loaves are pencil thin, others are as big as barrel tops. One of the most popular designs is a doughnut-shaped loaf, perfect for slinging over the handlebars of a bicycle.

FRANCE EATS more bread per person than any country of the world. The annual consumption in Paris alone equals all the timber in the big forest parks of Boulogne and Vincennes—nearly half a million tons.

On this tasty bread Parisians yearly spread enough cheese to equal the columns of the Arc de Triomphe—43,000 tons.

For the French homemaker, choosing bread each morning for the day's table is as important as brushing her teeth. A trip to the local bread store—usually only a few doors away—is made just the moment she knows the bread is coming hot from the ovens.

In the bakery, a gentle squeeze of the loaf assures her of its freshness, the price is paid, and the ritual is complete except for the eating.

Scholars may doubt it, but the course of history probably was influenced by bread.

When a hungry crowd gathered one day before the Palace of Versailles they were greeted by Marie Antoinette's surly remark, "Let them eat cake."

NOT A RACE to substitute cake for bread, the French revolutionists responded by cutting off the heads of Marie and King Louis XVI, and a republic was born.

The French scientist Parmentier in 1772 wrote at length about the merits of bread—confirming what every Frenchman knew even then. He said:

"Bread is suitable to every time of day, every age of life, and every temperament. It improves other foods. It is so perfectly adapted to man that we turn our hearts to it almost as soon as we are born, and never tire of it."

Modern-day Frenchmen have been known to say it another way: "A meal without bread is like a woman without a smile."

Ruth Millett

Trait of Enthusiasm Adds The 'Fem' to Femininity.

"Enthusiasm is the most dynamic of all human qualities." That statement is quoted from a book written for businessmen. But it holds every bit as true for the woman who has chosen homemaking as her lifelong career.

A woman without enthusiasm never manages to do more than a halfhearted job as homemaker, wife and mother.

It takes enthusiasm to encourage a husband when he misses a step on the way up the success ladder. It takes enthusiasm to joyfully share his successes.

It takes enthusiasm for the job of housekeeping to turn it into anything but a weary round of dull chores.

It takes enthusiasm to enlist the co-operation of husband and children in projects that ultimately will benefit the whole family.

It takes enthusiasm to give a home a hospitable atmosphere where guests feel welcome and admired.

It takes enthusiasm for a woman to work with others in community affairs—and a great deal of it if she is to head a committee or an organization.

It takes enthusiasm for a woman to pitch in and make the most, instead of just making the best, of living conditions that are far from perfect.

It takes enthusiasm for a mother to inspire her children to achievement, instead of wasting their opportunities and talents.

It takes enthusiasm for a woman to be a bright, gay and cheerful companion to her husband, her children, her neighbors and her friends.

Look around at the happy, industrious, ambitious, having-a-wonderful-time families of your own acquaintance and it's a safe bet you won't find one where the wife is not an enthusiastic, optimistic person.
